

Deloitte, recognized as the Romanian Tax Firm of the Year by the International Tax Review in 2022

Deloitte was recognized as the Romanian Tax Firm of the Year at the 2022 edition of the Tax Awards, organized by the prestigious International Tax Review (ITR) publication. Deloitte also received ITR recognition in Romania for Tax Disputes. In total, Deloitte won 32 awards, including Central and Eastern European (CEE) and Europe, Middle East and Africa (EMEA) Tax Firm of the Year, Tax Innovator of the Year, Tax Technology Provider of the Year and Tax Compliance and Reporting Firm of the Year in EMEA region. The winners are designated based on reviews conducted by ITR journalists, who focus mainly on the complexity, client impact, scale, and the innovation of the projects developed during the past twelve months.

"Deloitte wins Romanian Tax Firm of the Year in the first year in which ITR analyzes the activity in our country on a national level, not as part of Central and Eastern Europe, as in previous years. This recognition, along with the Romanian Tax Disputes Firm of the Year, honors us because it stands as a confirmation of the professionalism and the involvement shown by our colleagues in each local or cross-country project. In addition, I would like to highlight our contribution to the recognition obtained by Deloitte as the CEE Tax Firm of the Year for the fourth year in a row. Thanks to our multidisciplinary approach, we are able to provide our clients with integrated solutions to the increasingly complex issues they face, in an uncertain economic climate, and so I thank my colleagues and encourage them to remain at least as dedicated and to continue to contribute to further achievements of this kind," said Vlad Boeriu, Tax and Legal

Partner-in-Charge, Deloitte Romania.
